Church beach set to fail safe water test

By FRANCESCA EVANS
francesca@pemedia.co.uk

CHURCH Cliff Beach in Lyme Regis has been listed among a record number of England's bathing spots which are at risk of failing to meet EU water quality standards.

The Environment Agency has warned that more stringent EU regulations will make it much harder for beaches to attain the top "excellent" rating in the future. More than 99 per cent of English beaches passed last year's tests, but this is now expected to drop by six per cent with the water at 25 beaches, including Church Cliff Beach, expected to be rated "poor".

Each week until the end of September, Environment Agency officers will be taking water samples from 400 locations across the county, which will then be tested in a laboratory near Exeter and results published online.

Ratings are based on the levels of certain bacteria found in the water, including E. coli and intestinal enterococci.

Under the new EU regulations introduced in January, the concentration level of bacteria can only be half of what used to be allowed to receive the top "excellent" rating. It is now also harder to avoid the bottom "poor" rating.

At the end of the summer, sites will have to display signs at all bathing areas showing if the standards have been passed and whether people are advised to swim.

The water quality at Church Cliff Beach has become a recurring problem for Lyme Regis Town Council for a number of years, as it has continuously failed to meet standards. Previous members of the council have held discussions on a number of factors which could be affecting water quality, including agricultural slurry, dogs and pigeons in the River Lim.

Members of the previous council also discussed the possibility of de-designating Church Cliff as a bathing beach, which means it would not have to display signs saying it had poor water quality, but they voted against this as they felt they would not be dealing with the issue and it was a "popular" bathing spot for locals.

Following this week's national publicity on the water quality of Church Cliff Beach, the town council released the following statement: "The town council works closely with South West Water, the Environment Agency and West Dorset District Council to monitor and improve the quality of the bathing water in the town.

"The town council's role is to influence those statutory bodies responsible for water quality in the town which it does through regular meetings."

Last October, South West Water started construction work on a £413,000 75-cubic metre storage tank at Uplyme Sewage Treatment Works designed to improve water quality Church Beach ahead of the EU's tougher regulations being introduced, but they said it was "only part of the solution" and residents could help by checking their property was correctly connected to the foul drainage system.

The Environment Agency has listed the two most significant sources of water pollution as sewage from water company infrastructure and pollution from agriculture. The weather can also have a significant impact as heavy rainfall washes pollution into the sea. Dogs, birds, misconnected drains, or fats being poured down the drains have also been acknowledged to have an effect on water quality.

Lyme Regis' main front beach has not been affected by poor water quality ratings.

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

JANET Barratt-Pearce from Lyme Regis has just returned from a 'trip of lifetime' trekking along the Great Wall of China in aid of Marie Curie Cancer Care.

Originally from Islington in London, Janet first moved to Lyme in the 1990s and her children attended the Woodroffe School. She then moved back to London for a period and became a foster carer before moving back to Lyme about seven years ago.

■ JANET Barratt-Pearce on the Great Wall of China and, below, with her group

■ WHY did you want to hike along the Great Wall of China?

I decided to take part after seeing it advertised on a promotional leaflet while my mum, Rita Bryans, was staying at the Marie Curie Hospice in Hampstead, London, before she died last April. She said she would have loved to do it so I decided to do it for her.

■ WHAT did the trek entail?

I left on May 8th for London and then flew to Beijing on May 9th with a group of 25 who were doing the same trip and two guides from Marie Curie. We trekked from Monday to Friday.

It wasn't so much about distance but heights. We went 1,600 feet up on the Monday and 2,500 feet on the Tuesday. The wall was like rubble so the terrain was really hard, it was exhausting. It was quite frightening and lots of people had blisters and foot problems but I was quite lucky.

We walked solidly for four hours and then had lunch before setting off again. Every night we would have to come down a really steep incline off the wall, which was really hard terrain and really hard on the knees, and then we had to walk to our camp

■ WHERE did you stay?

We stayed in three different camp sites along the way with local Chinese people and lots of them were very poor. It was very bare and basic. I was quite out of my comfort zone and it was a real eye opener. It wasn't your regular tourist trail, real Bear Grylls sort of thing!

There were no showers at the camps so one day a group of us got a lift to a communal shower because we couldn't bare it anymore! Dinner was mainly boiled rice and vegetables and lunch was bread and fruit.

■ DID you enjoy visiting China?

It was a once in a lifetime trip. The landscape was beautiful on the wall. It was a sheer drop either side but it was magnificent. If anyone says they can't do anything I don't believe them, you can do anything if you set your mind to it.

Our guides were fantastic and I will never forget them, and I've become really good friends with the group that did it, we will all keep in touch.

When we had finished we stayed in a hotel in Beijing and went to a peking duck restaurant and it was the most delicious meal I had ever had. We also got to see Chinese acrobats and visit Tiananmen Square. I would like to go back to Beijing as a tourist.

■ HOW much did you raise?

I have raised £3,400 for Marie Curie Cancer Care but people can still sponsor me online at www.justgiving.com/Janet-Barratt-Pearce/. Our whole group has raised £90,000 so far and we think we can make that up to £100,000.

When I was there I wrote a letter to my mum and I managed to hide it in the stonework of the wall, which was really nice for me to be able to do. I would like to thank all those who have supported me and donated, and all the local shops that have had collection boxes for me.

New council split over future of deputy town clerk's position

By FRANCESCA EVANS
francesca@pemedia.co.uk

LYME Regis councillors were split over whether they should fill the vacancy of deputy town clerk, with some questioning if the position was essential and suggesting job evaluations for all council staff.

Members of the new council, meeting for the first time last week, eventually compromised after a lengthy debate by deciding to advertise the position as a two-year fixed contract.

Existing deputy town clerk, Mark Tredwin, handed in his resignation in April, shortly after it was announced that only 10 candidates had stood for council and would be automatically elected.

The previous council agreed that the vacancy needed to be filled and advertised a permanent position with a salary between £29,558 and £33,857, but the new council have now made changes to the position and will now have to advertise again.

At the first meeting of the new council last week, town clerk John Wright asked members if they wanted to proceed in appointing a new deputy and whether they agreed with the job description he had put together.

New councillor Derek Hallett said he thought the council should hold off on appointing any new staff until they had carried out a thorough review of its administration procedures.

Councillor Anita Williams argued that she would not want to delay, pointing out that the summer season was approaching and the council would be "incredibly short staffed".

Councillor Daryl Turner commented: "First question we need to ask is, do we need a deputy town clerk? That's the basics."

The town clerk said that the deputy was an "important post" within the council and if it was not filled he would be left with 70 per cent of the council's work to do himself.

Commenting on a heart attack he suffered last year, Mr Wright added that he would not be able to take on such a workload, as he had to put his health and family first, and the council would instead have to reduce the amount of work it wanted to carry out.

Severe implications

"You need to think long and hard about what you want to do, achieve and what level of service you want from officers. The work Mark is doing will inevitably fall on the town clerk and I can't do it all so something will have to go," he said.

Mr Wright added that removing the post would have "severe implications".

Councillor Hallett said that by not replacing Mr Tredwin, the council would save about £50,000 in salary, paperwork and other related expenses.

Councillor Williams asked: "Other than the money side of it, why is there a feeling that we want to cut a post when actually we have taken a long time getting to a position where we consider ourselves adequately staffed? What are we not going to do? How are we going to do things differently?"

New councillor Sean Larcombe said he feared they were going to end up with a "slower moving council".

Councillor Turner said the council needed to review all the projects it was undertaking and decide whether it actually needed to continue with them, which could reduce the workload. He added that he would like to see the council go "back to basics" and keep things simple for the first year, and would like a job evaluation for all positions to be carried out.

He later described some of the council's larger projects as "dubious" and said he would not like to see them go forward.

Councillor Williams argued that the council needed to continue with its major projects, saying it had spent a long time "looking inward" in the past and not achieving anything.

"In the last few years there have been some real achievements and I don't want to see that stop," she added.

"We have a turnover of about £1.3million. This is a big business and you need decent staff and competent staff."

New councillor John Broom suggested advertising for a two-year fixed contract. Councillor Owen Lovell, chairing the meeting, said he thought this was "sensible idea" but may have an effect on the quality of applicants.

It was agreed to advertise for a two-year fixed contract, but councillors continued to debate about other stipulations within the job description.

Councillor Turner said that the minimum requirement of a C grade in GCSE maths and English was too low, but this failed to win support.

Councillor Lovell also suggested that local government experience should be essential and not just "preferred", as written in the job description, which was agreed despite some members expressing concerns that they were limiting candidates too much.

Owen elected new Mayor of Lyme Regis

LONG-SERVING councillor Owen Lovell has been elected the new Mayor of Lyme Regis.

Councillor Lovell was elected mayor at the first meeting of the new council last week. He was nominated by Councillor Cheryl Reynolds.

Fellow former mayor, Councillor Michaela Ellis, was also nominated but withdrew her name at the meeting, instead seconding Councillor Lovell's nomination as she said her previous stint as mayor had been more recent than his and she felt it was fair he had another turn.

Councillor Lovell then nominated Councillor Ellis as his deputy mayor and she was elected unanimously with no other nominations. Councillor Ellis was also later elected as chairman of the influential Strategy & Policy Committee.

Outgoing mayor Sally Holman presided over the election of her successor before officially stepping down from her council duties.

Councillor Lovell and Councillor Ellis were among 10 members to be automatically elected on May 7th as there were not enough candidates for all 14 seats. They will officially take up their new posts as mayor and deputy mayor at the annual mayor-making ceremony on June 3rd.

Although Councillor Ellis was also elected chairman of Strategy & Policy Committee, it was agreed that the chairmen of other committees would be elected at each of their first meetings.

GP SPEAKS ON IMPORTANCE OF LOCAL HEALTHCARE REVIEW

A PROPOSAL for changes to local health services will be considered by NHS Dorset Clinical Commissioning Group's (CCG) governing body today (Wednesday) as the next step before a public consultation later this summer.

Since the launch of the Clinical Services Review in October 2014, over 300 GPs, hospital doctors, nurses, therapists and paramedics, along with social care staff and public and patient representatives from in and around Dorset, have been looking at the local healthcare system. They have been considering how hospitals, GPs and community services could deliver "greater benefits to local patients by improving quality and access within the available funds".

If the CCG governing body approves the options for new ways to deliver care at today's meeting, the proposals will then be subject to a robust NHS assurance process and a gateway review undertaken by independent reviewers. Following this review, a full public consultation will take place later this summer in order to gather views and any additional information from local people. A Dorset CCG governing body meeting will then take place in spring 2016 to make final decisions.

The CCG governing body will be asked to consider the evidence and proposals, including:

- The need to change – evidence shows some care is not as good as it could be and isn't always designed to best suit patients' needs; there are also challenges because of staff shortages and the fact that demand for services is rising at a faster rate than the funding for services is increasing;
- The vision of how better care could be delivered in Dorset – by the NHS and social care working better together in patient's homes, GP, community and hospital settings;
- The care that needs to be provided by GPs and in the community;
- The care that needs to be provided by Dorset's acute hospitals.

The proposals also incude developing a major planned care hospital at either the Royal Bournemouth Hospital or Poole Hospital to focus on treating patients needing scheduled operations. This hospital would also be a centre of excellence for treating the increasing number of frail and older patients who often have multiple different medical conditions.

Additionally, it would offer an urgent care centre as part of Dorset's A&E network to deal with approximately 80 per cent of conditions that are currently seen in A&E and operate as a hub providing a wide range of primary and community care services.

Dr Forbes Watson, a Lyme Regis GP and chairman of Dorset CCG (pictured), said: "Our local services must work better together to meet our patients' needs and quality standards within available funds.

"Doing nothing is not an option because the way we currently deliver care in Dorset isn't as good as it should be and isn't sustainable in light of changing and increasing needs from our growing and ageing population, and we have a shortage of specialist staff available for some services.

"As the GPs responsible for deciding on the care that is provided in Dorset we have worked hard since October 2014 to identify solutions to our challenges. These are based firmly on national and international evidence and good practice and will enable us to organise our services more effectively and efficiently to improve care for the people of Dorset.

"The proposals have been led by local clinicians and their discussions and ideas shared at every stage with NHS staff, patients, carers and members of the public. We look forward to hearing the views of local people during the consultation later this summer.

"If you want to take part and provide your views please sign up to our Health Involvement Network so we can send regular updates, the consultation papers when they are available and information about how you can get involved."

For more details on the review of services, visit www.dorsetsvision.nhs.uk. Members of the public are welcome at today's meeting, to be held at 2pm at Vespasian House, Barrack Road, Dorchester, and will be able to ask questions on a first come, first served basis for 20 minutes at the start of the meeting.

Charmouth Primary in bid to win £25,000 for outdoor learning centre

CHARMOUTH Primary School is vying for votes in the Aviva Community Fund scheme, with the hope of winning £25,000 for an outdoor learning centre.

The school hopes to win the funding for its proposed outdoor learning centre, which would benefit both pupils and the wider community. Amongst other things, the centre would be equipped with an outdoor stage, pizza oven, compostable toilets, mud kitchen and gardens with exploring and digging areas.

■ VOTE FOR US! Children from Charmouth Primary School with their plans for an outdoor learning centre

The aim of this area is to enable more learning to be done outdoors in an inspiring and interactive environment and also to open up the school more frequently to the community.

The outdoor space would be made available for groups such as the local Brownies, Guides and Scouts, Charmouth Cherubs toddler group, and other local youth and community groups. The school would also like to hold summer events for the local community in the centre.

The school's application to Aviva states: "We recognise that, whilst we are in a unique and privileged position on the Jurassic Coast, this is fundamentally a rural area with limited school funding and inadequate full-time employment options.

"The outdoor hub would provide a new dimension to structured learning, whilst also enabling the introduction of new topics and areas of exploration to excite and stimulate children. We aim to inspire future studies and career options including, science, technology, engineering, mathematics and creative arts."

Headteacher Gillian Morros added: "Charmouth Primary School believe that the outdoor learning environment is just as important as the indoors. We are looking to secure funding to fully equip an outdoor hub, offering an enriched learning environment to support the younger generation, including pre-schoolers, for years to come.

"This is also a wonderful opportunity to engage with and provide a rich resource for various community groups."

To raise the significant funds to buy the equipment, the school has bid for a £25,000 grant from the Aviva Community Fund and needs as many votes as possible to be considered.

Voting opened on May 1st and will continue until May 31st. To vote for Charmouth Primary School, visit www.community-fund.aviva.co.uk/voting/Project/View/2941. It is free to register to vote and each person is allowed to vote up to 10 times.

The school has made a video outlining why it thinks it should win the £25,000 grant, which can be viewed at http://bit.ly/1B9tGv0

New council agrees it will look to co-opt four more members

By FRANCESCA EVANS
francesca@pemedia.co.uk

THE new Lyme Regis Town Council has agreed to seek co-option of up to four members and has put on hold the possibility of reducing its numbers permanently.

Only 10 candidates put themselves forward for 14 seats on the town council, meaning all were automatically elected on May 7th. The new council was asked to consider whether it wanted to advertise to co-opt new members at its first meeting last week, although there had been some talk of reducing the size of the council permanently.

Speaking at last week's meeting, Councillor Anita Williams said she was in favour of co-opting four members, pointing out that she was now the youngest member on the council.

"I think we need some variation and I would like to see some new members," she added.

"There's an awful lot of work to be done and I think with 10 people we would struggle."

Her father, Councillor Stan Williams, backed her up adding that the council needed to find members with specific skills, such as finance.

"I certainly think we should advertise and then decided if there's suitable people," he added.

But Councillor Daryl Turner – attending his first meeting after leaving the town council last year amid controversy regarding alleged "aggressive" behaviour and then standing again ahead of the May elections – argued in favour of reducing numbers.

He suggested co-opting two new members to make 12, and starting the process of eventually reducing numbers to 10 on a permanent basis.

Chairing the meeting, Councillor Owen Lovell, who was elected the new mayor of the town earlier in the meeting, said he had hoped "not to put a number on it" at this point as he wanted as many people as possible to come forward.

He added that any movement to reduce numbers permanently would not be in place until at least the next election in 2019 as it was a long process.

New councillor Derek Hallett said he thought it would be "foolish" for the council to turn down people who could bring experience and ideas to the council.

Councillor Anita Williams added: "I'm not sure what the benefit would be of restricting numbers… we don't want to put people off standing. Surely we need people and skills?"

Councillor Turner argued that reducing numbers would not stop people coming forward to stand on the council. However, his proposition to only seek two co-opted members failed and it was agreed to advertise for up to four new members.

Councillor Lovell said he did not think Councillor Turner's suggestion of permanently reducing numbers would fail in the future, but it was "best to keep things quite open" at this time."

Evita - the perfect first show for the

THEATRE REVIEW
by Philip Evans
Evita, Lyme Regis Musical Theatre - Marine Theatre

I CAN'T think of a show I was looking forward to seeing more than Evita. Having seen the stage version in London many years ago with Elaine Paige in the title role, it's always been my favourite musical.

The soundtrack - with lyrics by Tim Race and music by Andrew Lloyd Webber - is often played in the Evans household and for some reason, I know not why, we always put it on it when decorating. Out come the paint brushes, on goes the tape!

I just love those lilting melodies in the show's classic numbers - "On This Night of a Thousand Stars", "Good Night And Thank You", "I'd Be Surprisingly Good For You" and "Another Suitcase in Another Hall" - which stitch the whole story together. And then, of course, there's the iconic "Don't Cry For Me Argentina", which reached No 1 in the UK singles chart in 1977. Wonderful music.

So it was with huge anticipation that I attended the first production of the newly-named Lyme Regis Musical Theatre, one of the few amateur societies selected this year to stage this blockbuster musical.

After 95 years as Lyme Regis Operatic Society, during which time they had staged every light operetta you could think of and latterly a number of well known West End musicals, the choice had to be ambitious. Under the new guise of a musical theatre company, it was important to make an impact. Would they be up to staging such an ambitious, dramatic production?

It wasn't an easy choice and there was a real danger that the show might not have made it to the Marine Theatre stage at all with a distinct lack of male performers, a problem which besets many local stage groups. There was also the question of financing a show of this popularity and the society's committee have worked tirelessly for months to raise the £14,000 needed to stage Evita.

But in the end it was cast successfully with a couple of late arrivals and any doubts that I might have had that this show was a step too ambitious were soon washed away as the chorus launched into their opening "Requiem for Evita".

Wonderful performances

I have spent a long career reviewing amateur shows and having lived in London I have seen many of the most successful West End musicals. I have witnessed some wonderful performances from local societies down the years and I have sat through more dross than I care to remember.

But I can't remember coming out of any theatre feeling so ecstatic, thoroughly impressed by the show I had just seen. For an amateur society, Lyme Regis Musical Theatre exceeded all expectations – and more.

For two and a half hours I thought I was in Buenos Aires. Clever minimal staging, stimulating dance routines, supportive chorus work and five-star portrayals by the leading cast members – it was all there and more.

Those of us who have followed Kelly Apps' progression from a shy, young girl with a pretty voice and bubbly demeanour to consummate actress had an inkling that this might be her finest hour. How right we were. I have rarely witnessed such a powerful yet poignant portrayal as she took on the role of Eva Duarte, who manipulated a fading Argentina crooner to introduce her to the glitz and glamour of Buenos Aires and slept her way through a list of influential boyfriends before landing her attentions on the country's President Perón and becoming one of the most notorious world figures, loved and hated in equal measures by the people of Argentina.

She did it with such panache and pathos rarely witnessed on the amateur stage. By the end of the show, as Evita was dying, there was not a dry eye in the house. It was a performance of the highest quality and one which her second cousin, Luke Street, now appearing on the West End stage, would acknowledge with pride. Where did the Street family get this talent?

Whilst this was a personal triumph for Kelly – the town was agog with eulogies about her performance after then first night – it would be unfair to describe this as a one-woman success, which Kelly was quick to acknowledge on social media.

It was also a gloriously successful show for Dan Wilkins, who took on the iconic role of Che Guevara. Whilst not a stranger to the local stage, this was his biggest role to date and it was as if he was born to play revolutionary Che as he strode the stage with confidence and swagger to narrate Evita's rapid rise to notoriety and ultimate demise. I suspect it was an experience he will never forget - nor will the audience.

Playing opposite Kelly Apps in role of Perón was Axminster business supremo Ian Styles, who stepped in at a late stage to fill the role. Ian is an occasional stage performer but he was made for this part, a performance full of gravitas. He immersed himself totally in the role; he was Juan Perón. And he clearly gave huge support to Kelly.

Another late cast member was Rob Dodge who was perfect in the role of Agustin Magaldi, the Argentinian tango crooner who was soon dumped by Evita for more influential suitors.

Playing Perón's mistress before being unceremoniously dumped for Evita, was Melissa Denslow, a rising star in local theatre circles. This was another step on the ladder to top billing in local shows for Melissa and she will soon be taking part in West Side Story in Bridport. In this show I particularly enjoyed her rendition of "Another Suitcase in Another Hall".

The Lyme society always find strength in depth and the leading players were well supported by Nicole Parkinson-Ward as the Argentinian child, Pete Ward (The President) and the generals – Peter Hampton, John Routley and Barry Marshall.

Pulling all this together was director Nick Lawrence who has spent a lifetime in and around theatre, gaining huge success along the way. He will have been well pleased with Lyme Regis Musical Theatre's first offering.

Supervising the choreography, with energetic and effective routines, was Rachel Worsley whose vast experience always bring a touch of class to the Marine stage.

Chorus (representing the people of Argentina, Eva's family, aristocrats, soldiers and European dignitaries): Pauline Beviss, Cathryn Brooks, Jane Broom, Sarah Causley, Val Cullimore, Melissa Denslow, Rob Dodge, Susie Gambie, Peter Hampton, Jo Hopkins, Lorraine Knowles, Barry Marshall, Yvonne Marsh, Nicole Parkinson-Ward, Joyce Pomeroy, Chris Quick, Scott Robson, Trudi Robson, Anita Routley, John Routley, Angie Taylor, Sue Wiscombe, Pete Ward, Tina Woodall and Maureen Yell.

Band: Ian Crew (keyboard), Stephanie Dommett (keyboard), Dave Jones (guitar), Rob Isles (bass guitar), Paul Denegri (trumpet), Chris Holland (trombone), Steve Douglas (percussion), Glyn Rattenbury (kit).

Production: Nick Lawrence (director); Rachel Worsley (choreographer); Stephanie Dommett and Ian Crew (rehearsal accompanists); Jack Price (stage manager); Simon Cobbledick, Jacqui Demkiw, Deborah Gildersleeves, Tomas Lowe and Nicky Sweetland (stage crew); Paul Haslam (lighting); Dave Tulloch (sound); Maureen Yell (wardrobe); Jacqui Ward (properties); Ann Higgs and Bev Rattenbury (make-up); Hazel Cawte (Eva's dresser); Jane Caddy (Eva's hair); Helen Webber and team (front of house); Kelly Apps, Mark Colley, Danny Hopkins, Jo Hopkins, Fred Humfrey, Nicky Sweetland, Jack Price (set creation); RBS Ltd (scaffolding); Scott Robson (graphic design, photography and website); Pauline Beviss (programme content); Pauline Beviss, Jane Broom and Jo Hopkins (publicity).

Lifeboat crew launched for man cut off at Pinhay Bay

LYME Regis lifeboat crew was launched this on Saturday evening following a report that a man had been cut off by the tide at Pinhay Bay, just west of the harbour.

The man managed to walk from the bay across a landslip to Monmouth Beach, and the lifeboat crew returned to the harbour once it was clear that the man was safe.

Big smiles at pre-school!

CHILDREN at Lyme Regis Pre-School were visited by local dental nurse Charlene Rattenbury this week to promote tooth brushing as part of National Smile Month.

Charlene has been introducing a long-term supervised tooth brushing programme to schools around Dorset, which will see staff trained to oversee young students brush their teeth at school to help improve their oral health.

The roll-out of the programme has also tied in with National Smile month, the UK's largest and longest-running oral health campaign. For more information visit www.nationalsmilemonth.org

Lyme to welcome French twinners

LYME Regis is set to welcome visitors from its twin town Barfleur over the coming Bank Holiday weekend.

Members of the Lyme Regis/Barfleur twinning Association will welcome friends from the Normandy coastal town on Friday.

A full two-day programme is planned, including on Saturday a boat trip from Lyme Regis along the Jurassic Coast, a visit to the lifeboat station and a chance to listen to the Scrabel organ at St Michael's Parish Church.

On Sunday a visit is planned to the swannery at Abbotsbury before the French visitors return on Monday.

Success for St Michael's at inter-school quiz heats

■ CHILDREN from St Michael's Primary School in Lyme Regis are celebrating success at the recent National Inter-School Quiz Championships. The area heats of the professionally-run quiz was recently held at St Michael's, which entered two teams - one coming first in the general knowledge area heat for the second year in a row, and the second being runners-up. The winning team will now take part in the finals in Clevedon on Friday, May 22nd.

Rotary golf day raises £3,800

THE Rotary Clubs of Lyme Regis and Axminster jointly held their ninth annual charity golf day last week.

The event was held at Lyme Regis Golf Club and was described as a "resounding success", raising £3,800 for local charities.

This brings the total raised at the now well-established event over the past nine years to £34,000.

Lyme Regis Rotarian Richard Cridge said: "Thanks to our sponsors this event has gone from strength to strength. Without them, it would not have been the success it is.

"This year we are donating half of the proceeds to two splendid charities which provide much-needed support to local people in the fight against cancer, namely FORCE (Friends of the Oncology and Radiotherapy Centre Exeter) and ELF (Exeter Leukemia Fund). The remainder will be distributed to other Lyme Regis and Axminster local charities and organisations.

"We sincerely appreciate the support, yet again, of our main sponsor, Hix Oyster & Fish House in Lyme Regis, major sponsors Axminster Power Tools, Holmesley Nursing Home in Sidmouth and Bridec of Bridport, and to the 30-plus other local organisations that helped sponsor the event or donated major prizes for the raffle.

"A full list of sponsors can be found on the Rotary Club's website, www.lymeregisrotary.org."

The format was Stableford, with 26 teams each of four golfers and excellent prizes awarded to teams with the highest joint scores. A team from Axminster Power Tools (Thomas, Trimble, Jones and Real) took first prize with 94 points.

The Rotary Clubs of Lyme Regis and Axminster would like to thank Lyme Regis Golf Club for hosting the event.

Mr Cridge added: "As usual they did a great job for us, many of those who played remarked on how well prepared was the course, and the hospitality and catering were highly praised. Their track record in providing excellent weather is, as yet, untarnished!"

Collection raises £520 for Nepal earthquake victims

IN response to the two devastating earthquakes that have been reported from Nepal in the past few weeks, the Rotary Club of Lyme Regis has sent £520 to disaster relief charity Water Survival Box.

Funds for the Somerset-based Rotary charity were raised during a collection on Marine Parade on May 9th when Rotarians demonstrated the life-saving equipment contained in the box, including a water pump and filter and other essential items.

Rotarian John Bartlett said: "Everybody was moved by the pictures of utter devastation that have emerged from Nepal. People have lost everything, over 10,000 have died and thousands more are homeless.

"The threat of further large earthquakes remains real. Houses have been destroyed, water is contaminated. The task now is to do everything we can to ensure those who have survived so far are given shelter and clean water and a helping hand in starting life again.

"Each Water Survival Box provides a family of four with clean water for six months, a basic life-sustaining need. These funds will help send three and a half boxes to Nepal, thanks to everyone who donated."

Water Survival Box is working closely with Humanity First to deliver aid to Nepal.

■ WATER Survival Box charity being supported by the View From Lyme Regis and its sister papers as part of a two-year campaign, which has already topped £10,000. For more details on the View's charity campaign or to donate, call James Coles on 01297 446155.

Viking boat among those to be launched by academy students

LYME Regis Boat Building Academy is inviting all to join the celebrations when the class of September 2014 launch eight vessels, including a 22-foot Viking boat, built as part of their intensive 38-week training.

The launch will be held at the harbour at 11am on Wednesday, June 10th.

The latest fleet of handcrafted vessels will be walked from the Boat Building Academy on Monmouth Beach to the slipway, where champagne corks will pop as the boats slide into the water for the first time.

Local boat builder Gail McGarva MBE will be there in her waders to help the boats into the harbour, as will friends and family of the students, academy graduates, representatives from the marine press and industries and Lyme Regis residents.

Seventeen students of all ages joined the internationally-recognised academy from a range of backgrounds and for a variety of reasons. Many had no woodworking or boat building experience.

Lee Ulyat, from Cheshire, was a security manager after leaving the 7th Parachute Regiment RHA, but wanted a complete career change. With the help of the group he has built a 20-foot carvel Seabird Half Rater, a one-design class boat - the oldest one-design still sailing.

He said: "The course is fast paced and intense. I've learned new skills every day. I never imagined I would actually be able to build a boat for my family and this is what makes the academy unique.

"The quality of training and instruction is first rate with a diverse knowledge base. I would recommend the 38 week course to anyone wanting to become a boat builder."

Other boats include a 22-foot Viking boat with solid oak centreline and square sail, an Iain Oughtred designed cold moulded "Whilly Tern", and a traditional clinker Scandinavian Faering designed by the naval architect father of one of the students, Max Stembridge.

At 18, Max is one of the youngest members of the class. He came on the course for his gap year which he says contributed greatly to Greenwich University's unconditional offer of a place to read architecture.

He added: "Before I came to the Boat Building Academy, I hadn't ever really spent time focussing on one challenge. Coming here and building this boat has taught me the importance of applying time and patience to my work and has really shown me my potential – not just in boat building but in life."

The academy's boat launches take place every June and December and are a popular event in the town and on the boating calendar. The launches mark the end of the students' training in Lyme Regis and the start of their new marine careers all over the world.

For more details about the students who make up the class of September 2014 and for a preview of the boats, visit the academy's website at www.boatbuildingacademy.com

Young people to be rewarded for contributions to community

By LOTTIE WELCH
lottie@pemedia.co.uk

DORSET'S young people are to be rewarded for their contribution to their local community in a new awards scheme launched by Dorset Police and the Office of the Police and Crime Commissioner.

The new 'Dorset Police Young People Awards' allows members of the public to nominate anyone between 11 and 25 years old, or a group, who they believe have benefitted their local area.

This could include undertaking project work to prevent crime or anti-social behaviour, considered vulnerable people in their community and developed a positive outreach programme benefitting all or have used technology to raise awareness of safety issues within their local area.

The new awards scheme is designed to promote and foster positive relationships between Dorset Police and young people by publically recognising outstanding behaviour, contributions, commitment and innovation that they make.

Martyn Underhill, Dorset Police and Crime Commissioner, said: "This awards scheme is really exciting, recognising young people for what they do in our communities.

"Whether it is an individual or a group we need them to be nominated from the community.

"I am asking everyone in Dorset, in your networks and friendship groups – who do you know that stands out as a fantastic young person helping our communities keep safe?

"These are our next generation and we really need to value and reward them."

To nominate an individual or group visit www.dorset.police.uk to download a nomination form.

Successful nominees will be invited to attend the annual Young People Awards ceremony in September and will be presented with a certificate from Dorset Police as a sign of the Force's recognition and appreciation of their achievements.

The closing date for nominees is June 30th and for more information visit www.dorset.police.uk

Councils to meet to discuss skatepark land

LYME Regis Town Council is due to meet with West Dorset District Council next week to discuss the transfer of land for the proposed skatepark.

West Dorset recently approved planning permission for the £150,000 town council-funded skatepark in Charmouth Road car park but would need to transfer a section of its land on the site to the town council for the project to go ahead.

Members of the previous council who had fought hard to get the much-awaited skatepark approved, in particular Lucy Campbell, had hoped the matter would be resolved before the end of their term of office but the new council are now expected to take the matter forward with the hopes of it being resolved in June.

Memorial unveiled to mark crucial part Dorset Regiment played in Battle of Kohima

A PERMANENT memorial to the courage of the men from the 2nd Dorsets, who lost 330 casualties during the Battle of Kohima, has been unveiled at County Hall in Dorchester.

The unveiling took place on the 71st anniversary of the climax of the battle – fought between April and June 1944 in the remote Naga Hills in India. It was a turning point in the Second World War, which halted the Japanese advance and turned defeat into victory. The Dorsets' part in that was crucial.

The Battle of Kohima may not be familiar to everyone, but the Kohima Epitaph – inscribed on the memorial at the site of the battle – is one regularly head at Remembrance events across the country - "When you go home, tell them of us and say, For your tomorrow, we gave our today."

At the service of commemoration the Exhortation was read by Major General Tony Jeapes, former Dorset, whose wife Jenny is the daughter of Lieutenant Colonel Geoffrey White, who was Second in Command of the Battalion at Kohima.

He said: "It was one of the major battles of the Second World War although many people don't know about it. While the war in Europe was being finished, this war was being continued, ferociously.

"This was a magnificent battle won largely by the grit of the Dorsets. Kohima was the furthest into the west that the Japanese ever got, after that it was withdrawal and defeat.

"It was the turning point of the war in the Far East and the Dorsets made it possible. Certainly it deserves to be remembered."

Mrs Jeapes said her father would have been absolutely delighted about the new stone in Dorchester.

"He was a military historian and had a lot to do with restarting the Keep Military Museum," she said.

"He ran it for a couple of years. It was important to him that military history was remembered.

"I hope Dorset people will visit the new Kohima Memorial stone as well as the Keep Military Museum."

A book about the Dorsets' story in WWII, including the role they played in the Battle of Kohima, is available from the Keep Military Museum. It is entitled "They Couldn't Have Done Better" by Christopher Jary.

New council settle in without any sweets!

Lyme Matters

by Philip Evans

AS expected and indeed predicted in this newspaper, Owen Lovell, the town's second most experienced councillor, will be our new mayor, following in the footsteps of Sally Holman who wore the chains on six separate occasions.

I say second most experienced, thinking that Stan Williams whose 40 years or more of service goes back to the old Borough Council days, but Owen may well consider himself as the most experienced councillor as he served on West Dorset District Council and rose to the dizzy heights of chairing the planning committee. It matters not as they have both given stirling service to the town. Stan's feat of serving for more than four decades will never be equalled in my view.

I was not present at the new council's first meeting when Owen was made mayor-elect with Michaela Ellis his deputy. They will be installed at the ancient mayor-making on Wednesday, June 3rd. But I understand it was well conducted and the ten councillors treated each other with respect.

That's not to say they were at one on all matters discussed. There was quite a long discussion on whether the position of deputy town clerk, currently held by Mark Tredwin, who has tendered his resignation and is working out his notice, should be replaced with some preferring not to do so at this time. In the end, they came to a compromise by deciding to re-advertise the position on a fixed two-year period. They are also insisting on local government experience.

It was good to see Daryl Turner take his seat in the town council chamber. Already a member of the county and district authorities, where he is more than making his mark, he was forced out of the town council after an alleged clash with a council staff member, a situation which should have been dealt with behind closed doors, saving the council from embarrassing and unnecessary publicity.

The first meeting demonstrated that the new council is likely to be more open in its decision making. It decided that the Human Resources Committee would be thrown open to all members and not just council chairmen and there are rumours that some of the new councillors are totally opposed to a weekly chairmen's meeting held behind closed doors an un-minuted.

Owen also made it clear that the habit adopted by the previous council of allowing sweets to be eaten at meetings was not acceptable. A good start?

Would deregistering Back Beach be so bad?

THERE'S always a few loud tuts and gnashing of teeth when the sea water quality results are announced.

With new European guidelines having been introduced, the criteria for passing the acceptable standards have toughened considerably and it is unlikely Lyme's Church Beach will ever come up to scratch.

Let's make it clear. It's perfectly safe to swim off Lyme's main beach but Back Beach, as we locals call it, always struggles because of the effluent and slurry washed into the River Lim further up stream and which ends up in the sea after passing under Buddles Bridge.

This is not the town council's fault. In fact, the last administration, led by Mark Gage, fought hard in insisting the relevant authorities had to get to grips with the problem.

They strongly opposed the suggestion that it would be better to deregister Back Beach for swimming so that tests would not have to be taken for fear that the matter would be swept under the carpet.

Deregistering would not mean people could not swim off back beach - but they would do so at their own risk. And there 's no reason why negotiations could not continue to find a solution so that one day it could be registered again.

It would prevent the annual bad publicity the town suffers every year.

Indeed, a no-brainer.

Oh what a cast, oh what a show!

HOW does the song go: "Oh what a circus, oh what a show". Well Lyme Musical Theatre's production of Evita was certainly no circus - but it was definitely a show.

A show that will always bee remembered for the quality of its leading cast members, especially Kelly Apps (pictured) and Dan Wilkins.

I hope they both enjoy the moment.

In the fateful and recent words of Paddy Ashdown, if this show does not win a NODA award, I will eat my hat - on stage at the Marine!

Learn about the honeybee at horticultural society talk

COLIN Osborne of East Devon Beekeepers will give a talk titled "The Social Year of the Honeybee" for Uplyme and Lyme Regis Horticultural Society.

Colin has been keeping bees since he moved to Uplyme three years ago. His wife Eileen helps with spinning and bottling the honey and making his favourite honey cookies.

The talk will start by discussing all the various types of bees and other pollinating insects. Starting in spring with the egg, he will describe the various changes that honeybees go through during their short lives. This will cover how they forage for all their needs and work together to support their egg-laying machine – the Queen. Finally, why they swarm and how they live through the winter.

The talk will be supported with his photographs and those from the National Bee Keepers Association archive. He will then show many of the bees' favourite flowers, some of which you can grow easily in your garden, though there are also plants which are much less useful to pollinators.

Those attending will learn many fascinating facts and figures, such as how many bees it takes to make a teaspoon full of honey, and Colin will conclude with questions and a short quiz to decide who wins a jar of his Uplyme honey.

The talk will be held at Uplyme Village Hall on Wednesday, May 27th, 7.30pm. Entry is free for members, £3 for non-members, and there will be tea and cakes for sale before and after the talk.

On Tuesday, June 9th the society will be taking a coach trip to the Royal Horticultural Society's garden at Rosemoor, North Devon, where the roses will be at their peak.

The coach leaves Uplyme Village Hall at 9.30am and the trip costs £15 for members, £18 for non-members. To book a place call Robin Britton on 01297 442794 before June 2nd.

Volunteers are valued in Lyme Regis

News from LymeNet

AT LymeNet, and in the Lyme Regis Development Trust as a whole, we have been so grateful for the time that our many volunteers give us. We know this is also true of many other local organisations.

There is a fantastic history of volunteering in Lyme Regis. Something of which we should be proud, and something that helps the town punch above its weight.

Some of our volunteers want to give something back to the community, some want to develop some new skills, some want the experience of something new, and some just want to get out and meet new people. Our job is to make sure that our volunteers get what they need from their volunteering. We are delighted that so many of our volunteers who come through our Job Club also go on to find work.

As funding for LymeNet's certificated volunteer training course draws to an end (still a very few places available free to all local volunteers and organisations) we wanted to find a way to continue our contribution locally.

Increasingly, we find we are able to complement our office and teaching assistant LymeNet volunteers with people taking on different, sometimes specialist, pieces of work, even if for a short period only. We've had help with websites, graphic design, photography, electrical work, financial work, and with our new projects. We even have one of our volunteers, Carole, who co-ordinates our volunteering efforts.

We, and other local organisations, wanted to create a local website that is a bit like a job site, but for volunteers. We thought it was worth a try, so we have launched the website www.volunteerlymergis.org which is a way for any local people interested in volunteering to find opportunities, and for local organisations to say what volunteers they specifically want. (Yes, the website was also built by one of our volunteers!)

It was nice to get a call from a community organisation in Saltash this week saying how it was exactly like the website they wanted to design. Feel free to try it out, it's still at its early stages, so please let us know how you find it.

Remember its national volunteers week June 1st to 7th!

Comedy writer visits Lyme

DAVID Nobbs, often described as Britain's finest post-war comic novelist and the award-winning author of the "Reggie Perrin" novels, "A Bit of a Do" and the "Henry Pratt" novels, visited Lyme Regis last weekend.

The author stayed at the Royal Lion Hotel and he and his wife Susan dined at Italia with well-known local author, David Ruffle, and Gill Stammers, who many will know from managing Uplyme Post Office and Stores.

He was also spotted at Paul's Barber and was said to have described Lyme as "utterly delightful".

Lyme Bay Dentistry

CAN you imagine what it would be to live your life with no self-esteem because you've lost all your teeth and consequently the ability to eat properly?

We often see patients who struggle so much with a denture that when they bite into any food they rocked so much it causes ulcers on their gums every time they ate. Consequently they haven't eaten a proper meal for years.

Fortunately, help is at hand. Dr Phil Bennett, past president of the Association of Dental Implantology UK, the UK's first European Expert in Implantology to the UK's representative on the European Dental Committee has more than 3,000 implants cases, from a single missing tooth to full mouth reconstructions, his before and after treatment pictures are amazing.

Phil is based at Lyme Bay Dentistry where he set up practice over 12 years ago.

Rebuilding people's mouths is really about rebuilding their lives and Phil has the ability to give someone back their confidence and change the way they live their life for the better. His ability to change people's lives is no exaggeration.

This isn't to say that dental implants are 'must have' treatment for everyone who enquires, Phil is selective about patients who he offers a treatment plan to, but for those who are suitable candidates, more than 96 per cent of them will say yes to treatment and 100 per cent of them will testify to his work.

If you are considering implants, consider Dr Phil Bennett. Visit our website www.LymeBayDentistry.co.uk or give us a call 01297 442907

Not only do I now have a complete smile but importantly for me, I am able to enjoy foods which had become difficult to eat.

Smile! It's National Smile Month

NATIONAL Smile Month is the UK's largest annual oral health campaign. Organised by leading oral health charity, the British Dental Health Foundation, and running from 18 May to 18 June, you'll find these three key messages at the heart of the campaign:

- Brush your teeth for two minutes twice a day using a fluoride toothpaste.
- Cut down on how often you have sugary foods and drinks.
- Visit the dentist regularly, as often as they recommend.

The aim of National Smile Month is to ultimately improve the UK's oral health. The campaign hopes to raise awareness of important health issues, and make a positive difference to the oral health of millions of people throughout the United Kingdom.

With the help and enthusiasm of those who are passionate about health and wellbeing, National Smile Month 2015 will see hundreds of events and activities up and down the UK educate and engage local communities about the importance of a healthy mouth.

In 2015, the campaign will take place between May 18 and June 18, and will encourage all dental and health professionals, schools, pharmacies, community groups, colleges and workplaces – in fact anyone with an interest in good oral healthcare, to join in and help us educate, motivate and communicate positive oral health messages and improves the quality of smiles all around the UK.

But National Smile Month isn't just about education and stressing the importance of a healthy mouth – the key to the success of the campaign is that we have lots fun doing it!

Better oral health for all

THE British Dental Health Foundation is a UK charity dedicated to improving oral health. Established in 1971, we provide expert, independent and impartial advice on all aspects of oral health. We work closely with government, dental and health professionals, manufacturers, the dental trade, national and local agencies and the public to achieve our mission of improving the nation's oral health.

Campaigns

We lead campaigns which raise awareness on major health issues like mouth cancer. We co- ordinate campaigns like National Smile Month which encourage everyone to share messages of good oral health.

Education

We are a leading provider of educational information and resources to dental and health professionals. Our resources help to educate and motivate millions of people each year to improve their oral health.

Advice and Information

We provide expert, free and impartial advice to the public - online and via our confidential dental helpline. We use industry experts, qualified dentists and dental nurses to provide the most comprehensive source of independent dental information in the UK.

Product Accreditation

Our expert panel independently assesses hundreds of dental products to help consumers make an informed choice. Our accreditation symbol appears worldwide in over 50 countries.

Influence

We contribute to UK dental policy development. Our independence ensures we are an important voice in the media and with decision-makers.

What we have achieved

The formation of the British Dental Health Foundation has coincided with major improvements in the nation's oral health. Our work to promote, inform and educate has made a significant contribution to the way millions of people now care for the teeth and think about the health of their smile.

Local landscape inspires art exhibitions

THREE Dorset artists have taken over the Courtyard Gallery at the Town Mill in Lyme Regis to showcase their atmospheric interpretations of the local coastal landscape in oils, acrylics and silk.

The exhibition "VEN" opened on May 14th and will continue until May 27th displaying the work of Vicky Stride, Eddie Burrows and Nicola Dennis daily from 10am to 4.30pm.

The first of the "VEN" artists, former teacher Vicky Stride, is intrigued by the shapes, shadows, light and essence of the land and shore around her and features these elements in her acrylic and oil paintings. Though a relative newcomer, Vicky won awards for two of her paintings in 2013 and 2014 at the Bridport Art Society's Summer Exhibitions.

For Dorset-raised Eddie Burrows, painting and marine art in particular offered a natural way to bring together his earlier careers as a structural engineer and training yacht skipper. In his seascapes, often painted outdoors, an engineer's attention to accurate line, structure and perspective is combined with a sailor's love of boats, weather and the sea, and an artist's sensibilities to colour and brush strokes.

The third painter on show, Nicola Dennis, works in a variety of mediums including silk painting.

She said: "My inspiration comes mainly from the sea, the wondrous creatures within it, and the emotions that it evokes.

"I have always been drawn to line and pattern in the detail of living things, and find myself concentrating on a fraction of the whole, instead of conveying the overall landscape."

Also an accomplished children's book illustrator, Nicola has illustrated "Bizzy the Blenny" and the "Treasure of the Fleet Lagoon" and an accompanying colouring book, "Colour and Learn: Bizzy the Blenny and Friends", for the Dorset Wildlife Trust.

■ A VARIED and highly visual art exhibition, called "Five Views", will open at the Town Mill's Courtyard Gallery on May 28th until June 17th.

It will include the latest work of local artists in ceramics, photography, jewellery, and painting, as they interpret in their distinctive styles and chosen mediums the surrounding countryside and locations that have inspired them.

Rosie Mathisen is a photographer taken with large vistas, intimate glimpses of nature and telling stories and giving a sense of place through a series of pictures.

Also through photography, Jeanne Goodridge is able to share with others her passion for seascapes and landscapes.

Jennie Hanrahan hand builds her ceramics using coiling, pinching and slabbing techniques and then smoke fires them in a pit. The results show her love of the contours and landmarks of the local landscape.

Silversmith Claire Whitfield allows her tactile and quirky jewellery to evolve organically and incorporates in her designs the pebbles, shells and sea glass she gathers while beach-combing.

And painter Barbara Green uses her sketchbook or sometimes paints "plein air" to capture the atmospheric essence of the places she visits on the Dorset coast or in the countryside.

This exhibition will be open daily from 10.30am to 5pm, and admission is free.

For further details of both exhibitions, visit the websites www.townmillartsguild.com or www.townmill.org.uk

Navigate around the cliffs with a map and compass

Those taking part can bring their own compass or borrow one from the trust. For more details or to book visit www.nationaltrust.org.uk/golden-cap or contact 01297 489481.

Museum Friends host cream tea

THE Friends of Lyme Regis Museum are hosting a cream team at the former Cliff Cottage tea room, next to Hix Oyster & Fish House in Lister Gardens. The event will be held on Sunday, May 24th from 2.30pm to 5pm and proceeds will go towards the museum's Mary Anning Wing extension.

Talk on Arts and Craft movement

THE University of the Third Age Heritage Coast branch, based in Lyme Regis, will be host a talk on "Arts and Craft Movement and Garden Design" on Wednesday, June 10th.

The talk by Marion Dale will be held at 11am the Woodmead Halls, with doors opening at 10am for coffee.

View from the churches

I'M very conscious that the ministers at Lyme Regis and Uplyme use this article to inform and promote events that are happening in this area. We want to thank you very much for all your support.

For example, I went down to Broad Street today (Saturday 16th) and found that the Christian Aid collectors and those selling cakes were doing good business and locals and visitors alike were being very generous. I'll let you know next week about the amount raised during Christian Aid Week.

I think we all need to give positive feedback upon things that we invite you to support. So here are a couple of updates on recent events, provided by Rob Greenman of the Bethany Chapel:

"The arts and crafts afternoon was great fun. It was very rejuvenating, as we got messy with paint and glue, and imaginative with all sorts of everything! It's amazing how creative it can be, in a very simple way, to drop lengths of string, buttons, shells and whatnot into a pot of glue, then fish them out and dump onto a card, move them around, add a splash of colour..."

A very appreciative audience heard Exeter Male Voice Praise, invited by Bethany Chapel to sing in Uplyme Village Hall. There was a variety of old and new numbers, with the audience joining in some of them. A full Sunday tea was served to about 110 people, who enjoyed mingling with one another so well, few seemed in any hurry to leave."

In the same spirit, we would also like to have feedback from you upon our column in this newspaper – because we are always open for improvement and variety!

One final advert: a special Auction of Promises is being held at 7.30pm on Thursday, May 21st at The George in Charmouth. Forty desirable lots are up for bidding with auctioneer Jim Rowe. Proceeds will go to the £250,000 restoration appeal for St Andrew's Church, Charmouth.

SUPERB WEEKEND OF MUSIC AT CUSTOMS HOUSE

Go tell Alice, Elijah Wolf and more on the line-up

THE Customs House has already made a name for itself as a unique new live music venue in the heart of West Bay.

This 200 year old building now plays host to an eclectic mix of musicians including top local performers such as The Andy Grant Trio, Elijah Wolf and Ben Taylor. Events Manager Fiona Hunt has also created an Open Mic Café during the half term holiday to give musicians a space to perform and this also offers a platform for local youngsters to showcase their talent in front of an audience for the first time.

Visitors to The Customs House regularly comment that they are delighted by the unique experience and bohemian atmosphere that this historic former bonded warehouse offers. Open all year round, seven days a week, shoppers will find three floors of vintage wares, gifts, crafts and a vibrant courtyard with a street market ambience and gourmet food stalls.

The Customs House, West Bay is set to become a must see attraction on the Dorset coast. For more information visit The Customs House West Bay Facebook page or contact Fiona Hunt: communityinvolve@gmail.com for events.

New performer added to Lyme Jazz & Blues event

TONY ROBERTS QUARTET TO PLAY JAZZ WEEKEND

LYME Regis Jazz & Blues Weekend has added the Tony Roberts Quartet to the weekend's playlist on Saturday evening (May 30th) at the Mariners Hotel, in the garden overlooking Lyme Bay.

Tony Roberts has played with some of the all-time greats - John Dankworth, John McLaughlin, John Renbourn, Alexis Korner and Danny Thompson – as well as enjoyed a successful career as a much sought-after London session musician. He now lives in Bridport, West Dorset, where he often collaborates and plays with his singer-songwriter daughter, Rachael.

Tony will team up with talented guitarist, Richard Llewelyn, bassist Ben Taylor, and Marc Juan on percussion for a decidedly Latin musical vibe.

The Mariners team will also be hosting its special Creole BBQ during the evening bringing the sweet spicy taste of Louisiana to the evening.

Julie Sheppard, the festival's organiser said: "We've been extraordinarily lucky to secure someone of the stature of Tony Roberts and his fellow musicians for this extra gig on Saturday evening. This is an absolute must for jazz lovers".

Tony Roberts Quartet, Saturday, May 30th, doors open: 6.30pm, Mariners Hotel, Silver Street (garden), £6. Tickets from Lyme Regis Tourist Information Centre: 01297 442138

Classical at the Marine
Fiata Trio

Fiata Trio

FOLLOWING the recent success of the first 'Classical at the Marine' concert with the Triptych Trio back in April of this year, the Marine Theatre welcomes the arrival of the Fiata Trio for its second evening of classical excellence in 2015. Performing on Thursday, May 21st, these highly skilled musicians are currently the only professional flute, clarinet and cello group in the UK.

Formed in 2011, the Fiata Trio provides live classical music in various prestigious venues and events across the UK, as well as television and radio appearances. As individual musicians, their experiences include playing with Sinfonia Cymru, Cardiff Sinfonietta, Dartington Festival Orchestra and Welsh National Opera.

Although similar in style to a string quartet, the Fiata Trio is a truly unique and elegant combination of instruments, producing a harmonious and stunning sound.

Welcome to the newly refurbished ANCHOR INN at Seatown

THE Anchor Inn at Seatown, near Bridport, is a destination pub that prides itself on great food using very local, quality produce. With daily specials, seasonal menu changes, and one of the best views available anywhere, The Anchor Inn showcases the best of West Dorset.

The Anchor is owned by Palmers Brewery but is a family run business with Paul and Kate Wiscombe having been at the helm since 2003. The pub has recently undergone a £1.3 million investment and the changes are quite simply breath taking. Having re-opened in May 2014, the refurbishment has included a brand new modern kitchen, three stunning boutique B&B rooms, new toilets, and a sympathetic facelift all round. Both locals and visitors alike have been wowed by the new look Anchor Inn.

To complement the new look pub and restaurant The Anchor are very excited to announce the appointment of a well renowned new head chef who will be starting in late summer this year! Jean-Paul DeRonne has made a name for himself in the local area, having previously been head chef for BBC MasterChef winner Mat Follas at his Beaminster restaurant the Wild Garlic, and also at his Chesil Beach Café. Most recently he has been an integral part of the team at The Lord Poulett Arms, winner of the National Dining Pub of the Year in the Good Pub Guide.

Jean-Paul will bring with him an exciting new menu, using the very best of local ingredients. Jean-Paul is used to foraging for ingredients, so is excited about working in place with so much foraging potential on its doorstep.

The current menu also makes the most of the location and it's local ingredients. It's mainly focused on seafood with fresh fish from the local fisherman that live in the village. One fisherman in the village has a boat in West Bay and provides fish such as Skate and Plaice, and another fisherman launches his boat from Seatown beach, quite literally on the doorstep of the Anchor Inn, and catches Lobster and Crab for the pub.

Discover Happiness at Bridport Arts Centre

WHAT is happiness and how do you get it? Fast, fun, thoughtful and physical 'The Happiness ' is a brand new dance theatre work that sweeps its audience into a provocative and entertaining adventure.

Brought to Bridport by a cutting-edge dance company run by choreographer and performer Karla Shacklock. The show uses the company's trademark combination of breakneck choreography, spoken word, live sound and ever-transforming images.

The Happiness is an emotional and colourful explosion of joy, grief and confusion. The performers decide the structure of the work live in the moment of performance - meaning that each performance is completely unique. According to Lisa Lort of Bath Dance "you'll go home with smiley ache!".

Combining first person stories, case studies from across the globe and referencing a whole host of philosophers and self-proclaimed happiness gurus, the work throws happiness up for all to question, see, experience and, ultimately, feel.

Weymouth Operatic to perform Evita

WEYMOUTH Operatic Society is raising the bar again this year with its production of EVITA. Building on the success of its highly acclaimed production of Jesus Christ Superstar at Weymouth Pavilion Theatre last May, WOS are lifting this production to their new level of professionalism.

Last year's production of Jesus Christ Superstar brought audiences to their feet and WOS Chairman, Stella Brading says "We anticipate a similar response and are looking forward to an exciting production of EVITA. Our professionalism and approach to the production make for a great experience for everyone in the audience and I hope that we will see a few 'full house' signs up during the week!"

Winner of seven Tony Awards, EVITA brings to life the dynamic, larger-than-life persona of Eva Perón, wife of former Argentine dictator, Juan Perón. Blessed with charisma, Eva Perón captivated a nation by championing the working class. This exuberant production creates a gripping theatrical experience and features Andrew Lloyd Webber's compelling Latin, pop and jazz influenced score. One of the most popular collaborations between Webber and Tim Rice, this legendary musical features the memorable song "Don't Cry for Me, Argentina."

To build on the success of last year, WOS has Martine Burt returning as Director and Sam Ryall as Musical Director, and under their professional guidance, the production will transform the fantastic Pavilion stage into an arena where the audience can examine the consequences of choice.

EVITA will be performed at The Pavilion Theatre, Weymouth between Wednesday, May 27th and Saturday, May 30th with performances starting at 7.30pm and also a Saturday Matinee performance at 2.30pm.

Tickets are £15 except for Saturday Matinee at only £12. Please ring the Box Office on 01305 783225 and early bookings are advisable.

Bristol Old Vic Theatre Production of The Beaux' Stratagem at Bridport Arts Centre

COME and discover the stars of tomorrow when Bristol Old Vic Theatre School bring one of one of the finest Restoration comedies, 'The Beaux' Stratagem' to Bridport Arts Centre.

Described by Bristol Old Vic as an 18th Century equivalent of One Man Two Governors. The Beaux' Stratagem has entertained and amused generations with its fast moving and breathtaking comedy involving rakes, lovers, desperate housewives, herbal healers and horse thieves!

The play sees Archer and Aimwell, two young gentlemen who have fallen on hard times, planning to travel through small towns in order to entrap young heiresses steal their money and move on.

But the two beaux aren't the only ones with larcenous designs – nor do they realise that their own hearts might be susceptible to ensnarement.

Jill Beed, Box Office Manager "Bristol Old Vic are firm favourites here at the Arts Centre. We're looking forward to an entertaining night of satire and silliness from some of the best up and coming actors in the country".

The Beaux' Stratagem comes to Bridport Arts Centre on Tuesday, May 26th at 7.30pm. Tickets are £12/£11 Members/ £10 Concessions from www.bridport-arts.com 01308 424204

"YOU PROBABLY know that at Bridport Leisure Centre we run the Bridport Bigfish Swimming School to help our youngsters develop their swimming and personal survival skills" says Virginia Stewart, Sports and Activites Manager at Bridport Leisure Centre, "but we also take great pride in offering a range of lessons to suit adults of all abilities.

"Join our instructors (who are all fully qualified to ASA level 2 standard), in small groups of 10 or less swimmers, where for 30 minutes each week we will help you to develop into the confident swimmer you want to be – whether that's swimming a width, diving in or learning to breath whist swimming front crawl. We have carefully developed the courses to progress at your pace and can offer lots of different aids to get you going and help you to improve.

"Of course the pool is a fantastic place to exercise as it supports 90% of your body weight so is very good for all those aches and pains. Less well know is that swimming reduces tension in your body and gently supports you whilst improving your posture, balance and flexibility and therefore your sense of well being. Swimming can do all this for you whilst burning 200 calories during 30 minutes gentle swimming.

"Our Beginners course, on Thursday morning at 10.30am, is just what it says for beginners - you may never have had swimming lessons and be a bit nervous in the water, so we work in the shallow end of the pool and aim to build up your confidence as we gently work at your pace.

"The Improvers course follows on from the beginners at 11am Thursday mornings and helps you to gain the skills and confidence needed to progress to swimming lengths in lanes."

Both the Beginners and Improvers classes run continuously throughout the year and cost just £19.50 per month. If you would like to discuss your goals or are looking for specialist one to one tuition please don't hesitate to ring call Virginia on 01308 426905 or if you are ready to get going you can book your place please by ringing reception on 01308 427464.

A Strange Wild Song

RHUM AND CLAY present a national tour of A Strange Wild Song – acclaimed theatre inspired by a pioneering Belgium photographer.

Rhum and Clay are proud to present their 2012 hit, A Strange Wild Song, on tour nationally throughout Spring 2015. Building on the success of their sell out run at the Edinburgh Festival Fringe 2012, and two small tours in 2013, this critically acclaimed ensemble will once again enchant audiences around the country with their unforgettably touching tale about finding light in the darkest of places.

They will be coming to Dorset in early June and perform at Dorchester Corn Exchange on Thursday, June 4th, Bridport Arts Centre on Friday, June 5th and the Marine Theatre Lyme Regis on Saturday, June 6th.

A Strange Wild Song takes the audience to northern France during the Second World War, where three children encounter a lost American soldier. Decades later, the soldier's camera is unearthed and the photographs inside reveal an incredible story of childhood and imagination.

Accompanied by an original award-winning musical score the production fuses cinematic imagery, absurdist humour, and physical theatre to tell an epic story that is thought-provoking yet entertaining.

The idea for the show came form a series of photographs by Belgium photographer Leon Gimple. Rhum and Clay co-founders Christopher Harrison and Julian Spooner explain what first attracted them to the images, 'Firstly they are beautiful; Leon Gimpel was the first photographer to have colour photographs in print, they often looked like paintings. His series entitled The Grenata Street Army struck a chord with our company. He had photographed a series of children playing in the midst of a war and we were drawn to the innocence and beauty of these images. They were both beautiful and horrific - young children acting out scenes of war. The contrast was ripe for theatre.'

A Strange Wild Song takes direct stimulus from these photographs as all members of the cast play children. The actors found this was the major challenge in creating this piece. 'We spent a lot of time experimenting with different ways of portraying children. The breakthrough came when we actually started to play without worries. In nearly every situation what distinguishes children from adults is their willingness to play, regardless of their situation. Whether it is in a war zone or a public pool, children will play. Once we understood this, we adopted this philosophy in everything we did as children and the rest just followed very naturally.'

Rhum and Clay is a theatre ensemble that tells stories: original shows that are inventive, ramshackle and cinematic. They formed the company at l'Ecole Jacques Lecoq in Paris in 2010, where they learnt their craft. They would also spend long hours into the night drinking 'rhum' and making masks out of clay. It was these happy memories that inspired the name under which the company perform.

A Strange Wild Song will be performed at Dorchester Corn Exchange on Thursday, June 4th 01305 266 926 www.dorchesterarts.org.uk, followed by Bridport Arts Centre on June 5th 7.30pm 01308 424204 www.bridport-arts.com, and Marine Theatre Lyme Regis on Saturday, June 6th at 7:30pm 01297 442138 www.marinetheatre.com.

SYMONDS & SAMPSON LANDLORDS WORKSHOP

30TH MAY 2015 10 AM TO 1PM AT OUR POUNDBURY OFFICE

SYMONDS & Sampson's letting departments have seen property levels decreasing and the number of tenants seeking homes increasing. Demand is outstripping supply with more than one tenant applying for each property.

There has been a small increase of buy-to-let investors but more need to enter the market to satisfy tenant demand. Rising rents and improved mortgage deals are there to tempt investors into the market so Rachael James, Partner and Head of Symonds & Sampson's Letting Department has arranged a Landlords Workshop at the Poundbury Office in Queen Mother Square.

Trudi Gumbrell and Emma Knight from the lettings department will be on hand to discuss the new legislation and case law and how existing landlords are affected together with advice on market rental values. Symonds and Sampson manage more than 850 properties and are members of ARLA. We offer a wide range of services and offer our clients an individual package to suit most Landlords.

Peter Grout-Smith, Residential Manager of the Poundbury office will be very pleased to talk to any investment buyers about our new home sites in Poundbury and also Chickerell. CG Fry and Son have a range of three and four bedroom homes in the heart of Poundbury. Whilst MJC builders are offering one bedroom apartments, and two and three bedroom houses situated in a well-placed part of Chickerell.

If you would like to attend the Landlord's Workshop, please email: tgumbrell@symondsandsampson.co.uk. We will also be happy for you to drop in informally between 10 am and 1 pm.

In the meantime here are some tips on what to consider when investing in a buy to let property.

Do your sums – Seek advice from our lettings department on the monthly rental against the cost of your monthly mortgage repayments. Don't forget to take into account voids where the property sits empty for a month or two.

Research the market – Choose an area where there are good facilities such as local shops, pubs, schools and public transport.

Tenants – Do not imagine yourself living in the property but put yourself in the shoes of your target tenant. Who are they and what do they want? Young professionals – modern and stylish. Families – They have their own belongings, so a blank canvass is essential.

Know the Legislation – It is essential that Landlords know their obligations under the law. A Landlord is classed as a commercial business under Health and Safety Rules and must be aware of responsibilities for such things as gas safety certificates and safe electrics.

Consider how hands-on you want to be – Buying a property is only the first step. Will you rent it out yourself or use an agent to do so?

Are you Happy with your existing Agent?

We look forward to seeing you on 30th May 2015 between 10 am and 1 pm.

Dynamism of a Coupé with the toughness of an SUV

▲ New Honda HR-V

ALL new HR-V combines dynamism of a Coupé with the toughness of an SUV: Project Leader Masaki Kobayashi gives an insight into the creation of a unique Crossover.

'We didn't want to just create a downsized SUV,' he explains. 'Honda already has the CR-V, which combines the virtues of an SUV and a lighter, more nimble conventional car, so the HR-V needed to offer something different. The development team set a goal to create a new value or theme from the very start of the project.'

That new theme was to combine the elegance and fluidity of a Coupé with the utility and strength of an SUV. 'Combining high eye-point and toughness - core values of SUV - with a new level of emotion was the key,' Kobayashi says. 'So we came up with an exterior concept encapsulated by "Emotionality and Toughness" and an interior concept called "Personal Cockpit and Expansiveness". We wanted to fuse apparently conflicting values to create something fresh.'

This approach was tailored around a dynamic and demanding buyer profile. Kobayashi and his team targeted 'active people who enjoy both their work and home life. These people have a high sense of the balance between fashion and practicality.' Achieving that balance in the HR-V was a challenge. 'It was very difficult to create the desired interior space, ease of use and sheer capaciousness hand-in-hand with dynamic and emotional design,' Kobayashi begins. 'However, the process is relatively simple: Package designers take charge of determining the space and layout of the vehicle and set hard points. From there the exterior and interior designers take over to bring the concept to life within those hard points.'

If the theory is simple the intense period of melding a dynamic but versatile interior with an aerodynamically efficient, exciting and innately tough profile is hugely demanding. 'Of course it's not so straightforward in reality!' Kobayashi says with a smile. 'The designers and engineers discuss everything on a millimetre level… You might even call them arguments! But by having these open discussions the project can really take shape.'

Once this conceptual phase is complete the job of modeling the HR-V begins. 'We spent the longest time on this process,' says Kobayashi. 'Designing, modeling and then repeating the verification using full-scale models to get a real sense of how the HR-V would look out on the road. This is where the design starts to come to life and we can experiment with shapes and forms that still let the interior space breathe but also create a tension and fluidity in the design.'

The cohesiveness of the HR-V design is a testament to that intense and highly-detailed process and something of which Kobayashi is proud. 'Fusion of a cabin shape with good aerodynamics and a strong lower body became the basis of HR-V's dynamic form,' he begins, 'and what's satisfying is that we were able to create a product with no compromise in terms of size, function and design.' That means an interior packed with functionality but also a sense of personal space and fun. 'The driving position is very much like a Coupé and engenders a sense of agility and dynamism, yet because the architecture features a central fuel tank layout and elements like the Magic Seats the HR-V offers masses of space for passengers and great flexibility. This combination gave the design team a great deal of satisfaction.'

'For the exterior we are very pleased with its dynamic shape, the high quality of the surfaces and the intricate but seamless detailing,' says Kobayashi. 'I can say that when the whole team first saw the prototype vehicle together, we felt proud and special that we were able to realise our targets with this new car. I believe that the HR-V possesses the elegance to look attractive in any scene and yet a sense of toughness at the same time. And my determination to make it look like a real 'driver's car' was achieved.'

The all-new HR-V is a product borne of the determination to offer something fresh and innovative but with the real lives of real people and families at its core. Honda offers a unique environment in which to create new products. 'Honda is a place where we use our will to create new values without being bound by the past,' explains Kobayashi. 'That is our driving force. From a creator's perspective it is an interesting and stimulating environment. That sense of moving forward and also listening to the users who live with our products around the world is very exciting.'

Audi TT Secures Best Sportscar Accolade

Sports car desirability and agility with far fewer visits to the filling station – this is the genuinely winning formula which has just secured the frugal Audi TT TDI ultra the 'Best Sportscar' accolade in the 2015 DieselCar Magazine Awards.

"Despite evolving over the years, the shape of the Audi TT remains as one of the most instantly recognisable cars on the road, as well as being highly desirable," explains DieselCar Magazine Editor and Publisher, Ian Robertson.

In the ultra version of the acclaimed aluminium and steel composite-bodied Coupé the impressive 184PS output from the 2.0-litre TDI engine is bolstered by peak torque of 380Nm available between 1,750 – 3,250rpm, accounting for impressive in-gear performance which is closely matched to its TFSI counterparts. Acceleration to 62mph is dealt with in 7.1 seconds on the way to a maximum speed of 149mph. The potential for over 62mpg is also combined with the added benefit of a BIK threshold of just 21 per cent – the lowest in the TT model range – and a VED rating in band C (free for the first year and only £30 thereafter).

The centrepiece of the cutting-edge TT interior is the Audi Virtual Cockpit, a 12.3-inch TFT screen which uses the latest NVidia Tegra 30 graphics processor to display crystal clear media graphics and infotainment menus in full-screen when required. The Virtual Cockpit is fitted as standard to all models, and crystal-clear navigation mapping can be optionally specified as part of the Technology Package, which also equips the system with a multitude of Audi Connect 4G Internet services.

Commenting on the award, Audi TT and A3 Product Manager Julie Salsbury said: "The new TT is now more focused than ever before, drawing on the huge success of its iconic predecessors and incorporating up-to-the-minute technology. Our jewel in our crown – the new TDI ultra model – encapsulates this sportscar DNA with the added advantage of remarkable efficiency, and it's tremendously encouraging to have these attributes recognised by the go-to publication on diesel cars."

Pricing starts from £29,810 OTR for the TT Coupé 2.0 TDI ultra Sport, rising to £31,995 OTR for the all-new Roadster version, and both are available to order in UK Centres now.

Brake Backs Police Federation Plea For Lower Drink Drive Limit

BRAKE backs Police Federation plea for lower drink drive limit and calls for greater priority for life-saving roads policing

Brake, the road safety charity, has given its strong backing to calls made today (19 May 2015) by the Police Federation – the staff association for all police constables, sergeants and inspectors in England and Wales – for a lower drink drive limit, following evidence from Scotland that the lower limit introduced there last year has led to a marked reduction in drink driving rates.

The call is being made at the Police Federation's annual conference, being held in Bournemouth this week. The Police Federation is also highlighting what it calls the "unprecedented cuts" suffered by roads policing units in the last five years, leaving them unable to properly enforce life-saving road safety laws [2].

Julie Townsend, deputy chief executive, Brake, the road safety charity, said: "Brake agrees with the Police Federation that the UK drink drive limit – one of the highest in Europe – needs to be lowered. We would like to see an effective zero-tolerance limit of 20mg alcohol per 100ml blood. This would make it clear that even small amounts of alcohol affect your ability to drive safely, and end the widespread confusion over whether it's safe and acceptable to have one or two drinks and drive. Research is clear that even very small amounts of alcohol impair, hence it should always be 'none for the road' – not a drop.

"Brake also echoes the Police Federation's concern over the severe cuts that have been made to roads policing in recent years, which have been disproportionally heavier than cuts to other areas of policing. Given that enhanced traffic policing offers a huge return on investment and a way to avert needless casualties and suffering, this makes no rational, moral or economic sense. Brake urges the government to make traffic policing a national priority and give officers the backing and resources they need to do their job."

Brake campaigns for a zero-tolerance drink drive limit through its not a drop, not a drag campaign, and for prioritised police traffic enforcement through its crackdown campaign. Tweet us @Brakecharity, #notadrop, #crackdown.

Lyme Bowls

Varying fortunes

THERE were varying degrees of success and failure in the four leagues this week. Lyme 1 are making steady progress with an 8-2 win away at Dorchester.

Lyme 2 on the other hand were well beaten at home by Sherborne, failing to secure a single point.

Lyme 3 picked up two points in the South Dorset League whilst the ladies were unfortunate to come away with just four points from their away game at Blandford, winning as they did on two of the three rinks.

In the friendlies, Lyme only managed one win from three games. A particularly hard game against West Sussex tourists saw Lyme lose on five rinks and draw the sixth.

We could do with more of our first team members turning out for these touring side games in order to give them the opposition they deserve.

Razor sharp Thorne

By Geoff Pickett

HAVING defeated the challenge of single-seater racer Mike Lee to take victory in April, on the second day of the Woolbridge Motor Club double header, Rod Thorne was dominant again two weeks later at the 500 Owners Association event.

As previously the Pilbeam MP43 sports racer driver's nearest challenger was Lee in his Suzuki Hayabusa powered OMS 2000M.

But with the torque of the mighty five litre Rover V8 in the Pilbeam there was no stopping the Frampton garage proprietor who paced himself through the wet and slippery morning practice runs and then produced two neat and rapid timed runs in the afternoon to lead the battle for the Harry Foster Memorial Trophy.

The first competitive runs saw Thorne take the lead by 0.49 second with a climb of 40.60 seconds which he improved on at the second time of asking with the only sub 40-second climb of the day, a 39.95.

In doing so the winning margin was increased to 0.98 of a second but the OMS pilot was very much aware that he had to not only race Rod Thorne but also Hayley Thorne as she claimed second in class behind Lee and the OMS.

The meeting catered for both cars and motorcycle with the later utilising the two timed runs as qualifiers for the Top Ten Run-Off for the National Hill Climb Associations Championship.

Aprilia SXV rider Keith Haines from Weymouth was in good form during the class runs to take his 549cc machine to third in the 501cc – 750cc class with a time of 45.78 seconds and as a result qualified for the run-offs.

There is nothing like a championship run-off to pump the adrenalin and sharpen the reactions and Haines focused on achieving a smooth and error free climb.

This he achieved to improve his time by 0.58 of a second to take a handsome haul of points with fifth fastest time.

That was Bob Taylor; Keith Brooks; Paul Tibble; Craig Bosher who scored one on the last end to win 15–14. Brian Rumble; Barry Shortland; Brian Conisbee; Brian Iverson went down 12–14, and there was disappointment for Chris Thorne; Bill Payne; John Carter; Dave Roberts who went down13- 25 after failing to score on the last 10 ends.

Lyme Regis Sailing

Tylers' Fireball is best overall

THE biggest turnout of the season so far, saw 28 dinghies on the start line for the first of a series of three back-to-back races on Sunday.

In a light south westerly, and bright sunshine, Jerry Rook in his Albacore and D1s sailed by Nick Oman and Simon Heusen got the best start on a slightly port biased line.

However, it was Allan & Chris Tyler in their new French Fireball who rounded the windward mark first and set off on a three sail reach, closely followed by Simon Clark in his RS 700 and the Merlin sailed by Dominic Bowns.

Line honours finally went to Clark, but provisional results show the Fireball won on handicap with Oman second and the Merlin third.

The second race followed a similar pattern, though the RS 800 sailed by Cameron & Darrol Moss overtook the Fireball when Chris Tyler missed the clip onto her trapeze and rolled backwards out of the boat which resulted in a capsize!

The slower boats had close tactical racing and performed well on handicap; the fleet dividing up the beat to either take advantage of the tide or the wind bend off the cliffs.

The third race started in slightly more wind, with a perfectly set course giving perfect reaching angles for the boats carrying spinnakers.

After the three races the Tylers, with a first and two seconds, won the day overall in their new Fireball, Bowns in the Merlin was second and Colin Walters in his Albacore came third; these results are provisional as some handicaps have to be adjusted.

Several sailors have changed classes for the season as performance boats are always being developed and competition is keen.

On the slipway after racing finished, top sailor and boat builder Jon Turner arrived with his latest Merlin which he hopes will prove a winner.

It created quite a stir as he rigged and put to sea in "Phantom" for a first trial.

The club is hosting an open meeting for Merlins in two week's time when Turner and Richard will be closely watched.

Beaminster 2nds taste victory at last

BEAMINSTER 2nds are celebrating their first win in almost two years after beating Parley 5ths on Saturday where Dean Hyett was the hero, carrying his bat for an undefeated 145 not out.

It was July 13th 2013, 24 games ago, that they last tasted victory when they beat Bere Regis 2nds.

In the big derby of the day Dorchester beat Weymouth by four wickets at the Rec.

With both sides having lost their opening two matches something had to give, and despite a half century from Michael Irrgang, Dorchester won with nine overs left.

Dorset Funeral Plan League Premier Division

DORCHESTER 159-7 BEAT WEYMOUTH 156-7 BY 4 WICKETS

DORCHESTER had a reasonably comfortable win over Weymouth in the first derby game of the season.

Set 157 to win, they passed the total with four wickets to spare to record their first win of the season, and leave Weymouth winless.

Dorchester invited Weymouth to bat first and it appeared that Aussie Michael Irrgang, who started the season with a first ball duck, looked in good form as he and Jim Ryall confidently moved the Seasiders to 77-1 despite a tight opening spell from opening bowlers Dan Belt |(1-24) and James Dunham (1-29).

However, after Irrgang (53) had passed his half century with a boundary, Simon Mitchem bowled him and then had Simon Browne caught behind for a duck to leave them 79-3.

Weymouth skipper Kieron Womble (24) joined Ryall and they looked to have put his side back in contention before the latter was caught at long on off Shaun Little (2-38).

Good bowling started to strangle Weymouth's progress after this with only Neil Walton (19) and Alex Mortimore (13) really contributing as their innings finished on a disappointing 156-7.

MARTINSTOWN 169 LOST TO WIMBORNE & COLEHILL 214 BY 45 RUNS

MARTINSTOWN captain Ed Nichols was a little disappointed that his side lost having dismissed Wimborne & Colehill for 214.

Winning the toss, the visitors batted on a good surface, but a lively opening spell from Chris Read (2-33) and Matt Camp (3-27) and excellent spell of spin from Liam Banfield saw the visitors struggling on 139-5.

However, a half century from James Williams saw Wimborne reach 214 all out.

Martinstown lost Lee House (9) early on, Steve Gerity (17) on his debut added 50 for the second wicket with Nichols (33), but their dismissals saw the hosts slump to 92-5.

A hard-hitting 45 from Ross Stewart gave Martinstown hope but once he went and despite 23 from Tom Nicholls and 13 from Matt Camp the innings fell away to leave them 46 short of victory.

Nichols said: "We bowled well early on and they never really got away until Williams appeared. He found the boundary fairly regularly, but we were happy with 214 as that generally is a below par score at Ashton.

"We started positively and Steve Gerrity batted very well on his debut, but when they turned to spin four of us got out to short balls - you can't lose wickets like that. If Ross Stewart could have stayed, I think we could have got there."

County Division Two

BOURNEMOUTH 3RD 178-1 LOST TO CATTISTOCK 339-8 BY 161 RUNS

CATTISTOCK cantered to their first win of the season on a flat pitch at Chapel Gate where they were helped by some wayward bowling and poor fielding; the hosts racking up 92 extras, 74 of which were wides.

Winning the toss and batting, Martin Langford and Jon Legg (13) put on 112 for the first wicket.

Langford added a further 73 in partnership with Joe Baggs (63) before he was dismissed for 77. With Billy Walbridge weighing in with 32, Cattistock amassed 339-8 in their 45 overs.

◆ Martin Langford - 77 runs

Bournemouth 3rds also found the wicket to their liking in responose with captain Harry Weal top scoring with 70 in a first wicket partnership of 126.

However, with Gavin Hale stuck at one end carrying his bat for 45 not out in the 45 overs, Bournemouth were never likely to threaten.

For the record Hale scored just a single in his first hour at the crease in an innings that lasted 2 hours 21 minutes!

County Division Three

BEAMINSTER 100 ALL OUT LOST TO KINGSTON LACY 101-9 BY 1 WICKET

BEAMINSTER lost for the first time this season in a game dominated by the bowlers going down to Kingston Lacy in a nail-biting finish.

Beaminster were invited to bat and struggled throughout their innings.

After losing two early wickets opener Richard Runyard (34) and Will Everitt (28) shared a 53-run partnership.

Runyard continued his good early season form but when he tried to accelerate the scoring he was caught which sparked a collapse as Beaminster slipped from 75-2 to 100 all out, with a number of poor dismissals by the middle order.

Although the batting conditions were not ideal, the Beaminster players showed a lack of application and their score was at least 50 runs short of par at the Memorial Ground.

In the field, Beaminster started aggressively with opening bowlers Ross Baker and Everitt bowling full and straight to leave the visitors 2-2.

Wickets fell regularly throughout the reply and were shared between Baker (2-16), Everitt (1-16) and first change bowler Adam Herring who continued his excellent form with 4-33.

When Adie Phillips took the ninth wicket on 99 all three results were possible before the last wicket pair managed to scramble a single to win the game in the 24th over.

WEYMOUTH 94 LOST TO DORCHESTER 2ND 163 BY 69 RUNS

DORCHESTER 2nds made it a county town double with their win over their Weymouth counterparts at Redlands.

Losing the toss they were asked to bat by their hosts, and Simon Joslin and Josh Foot made a steady start against a fairly lively opening Weymouth pair.

When Foot was trapped lbw, Joslin was joined by Malcolm Stroudley and they provided the basis for the Dorchester total, staying together until the 38th over when they both fell in quick succession trying to push the score along.

Wickets fell regularly as Dorchester tried to accelerate on a low scoring track but no one really succeeded and they were bowled out for 168.

Mike Peak and Stuart Beasley opened the bowling in reply and took a wicket each and with Weymouth struggling at 14-2 off 14 overs it looked unlikely they would reach the target, and so it proved as Weymouth were dismissed for 94.

Captain Beasley said: "We reckoned 168 might be enough and with them struggling early on we felt confident.

"All our bowlers did well, but to be fair to the Weymouth batsmen they punished the few bad balls we bowled.

"All-in-all it was a fantastic win and it makes it better that it was a derby."

SWANAGE 2ND BEAT BRIDPORT (SCRATCHED)

COUNTY DIVISION FIVE

CHARLTON DOWN 253-6 BEAT BRADFORD ABBAS 149 BY 104 RUNS

CHARLTON Down playing their first home Saturday League match on grass, made it back-to-back wins with a 104-run victory over a Bradford Abbas team who were in no mood to give away bonus points and took the game to the 37th over with Rich Steadford finally out for a patient 98.

Bradford made good use of the favourable bowling conditions after inviting Charlton Down to bat first.

Steve Cake dismissed Jae Miller (4) and Javed Gill (4) with 43 on the board, but Sam Roles and Matt Stevens were looking solid before Chris Douch produced an excellent yorker to dismiss Roles (36) with the score on 72-3.

However, the hosts' middle order produced three 50-run partnerships. The first came between Stevens and Cameron Lucas (24) who added 67 runs in only 11 overs, before Stevens was joined by Kim Park (56no) and added a further 57 runs before Stevens (54) was caught.

Debutant Robin Rutter then shared a partnership of 57 with Park taking the score to an imposing 253-6.

Stevens' innings was pivotal to Charlton Down's recovery and included seven boundaries whilst the depth of their batting was shown with Park, coming in at number six, produced an innings mixed with great patience, smart running and some lusty blows including one enormous six.

The Bradford response got off to the worst possible start losing their first four wickets for only nine runs with some inspired bowling from Matt Stevens (3-31) and Dan Stevens(1-5).

Dan struck with his second ball before older brother Matt produced a devastating spell, taking three wickets in five balls.

The change of bowling then-worked immediately with Roles and James Pretty taking a wicket each leaving Abbas struggling on 28-6 after 12 overs.

However, Steadiford had other ideas and was unlucky to miss out on his century as he farmed the strike away from his inexperienced colleagues to accumulate 98 runs before being bowled by Roles in the 36th over.

Park wrapped up the innings to gain 20 hard earned points.

Captain Pete Tucker said: "It was a really good win and great to see players in good form with the bat and ball so early in the season, especially Matt and Dan Stevens.

"Playing on grass has been our aim at the club for the last two years and it is a great step forward for the club."

SHAFTESBURY 241-3 BEAT MARTINSTOWN 2ND 139-6 BY 102 RUNS

AFTER losing the toss and fielding, the pitch offered some hope to the Martinstown bowlers, and indeed Shaftesbury had lost both their openers with the score on 28.

But this brought together Dave Toogood (55) and A Williams who put together a third wicket partnership of 200.

Williams, who played a high quality innings, finished with a flourish, hitting the final ball for six for an unbeaten 152 not out.

Against this onslaugh, the Martinstown bowlers kept to their disciplines without the penetration needed to dislodge the set batsmen.

Ryan Blair took the two early wickets, and Grant Neven bowled seven overs for 35, which helped keep the score down, with James Pickering taking the other wicket to fall.

Williams was dominant inShaftesbury's 40-over total of 241 for 3 but Martinstown only conceded 89 runs from other sources.

In truth the Martinstown batting line-up, missing two of the more powerful hitters through injury, did not have the firepower to chase down this total.

After a breezy start the reply of 139 for 6 relied largely on Olly Gargrave unbeaten 61.

Stewart Dawson's first knock of the season offered an entertaining 25 and Jamie Stewart defied a bad back to remain 8 not out.

Although a heavy defeat, it was a spirited performance by the Martinstown team.

County Division Six

PARLEY 5TH 201-6 LOST TO BEAMINSTER 2ND 203-6 BY 4 WICKETS

DEAN Hyett was the star of the show as Beaminster 2nds recorded their first win in 24 games.

Set a target of 202 for victory, he dominated the proceedings, but all the batsmen played their part in giving him support, none more so than Jordan Nottley (2no), one of three 15-year-olds in the side, who helped him nudge them over the line.

Batting first, Parley were 90-4 at drinks, but with captain Mike Callaghan (40no) having joined Luke Neill (48) they hit out to set Beaminster a daunting target.

Justin Gurd with 3-41 was the most successful bowler whilst Terry Field took two superb catches.

Captain Gurd was ecstatic with his team's performance, he said: "It's a great feeling to have won after so long, and it was my first as captain.

◆ Dean Hyett - 145 not out

"There was a really great atmosphere in the side before we took the field, and I hope this is the start of a few more victories.

"We've come a long way in the last few games, and with our young players now coming through and making an impression, let's hope for better things."

Sunday Division Three

SHILLINGSTONE 218-8 BEAT SYMENE 70 BY 138 RUNS

SYMENE are in transition, and with none of them getting any younger, this season will be one of introducing a number of younger players to their ranks.

On Sunday they blooded four teenagers all of whom produced commendable performances.

Batting first, Shillingstone were in trouble at 114-5 when Ryan Broadwell-Miller, having just reached his half-century and looking threatening was brilliantly caught by one of the debutants, Luke Robinson.

Unfortunately, he was replaced by Bob Edwards who was in belligerent mood. Playing sensibly at first to see off Graham Bartlett's (4-19) eight overs, he opened up to score 58 and held his side to 218-8 off their allocation.

The evergreen Paul Edwards with 2-24 from five overs chipped in as did all four of the young bowlers.

All were allowed four overs Robinson claimed 1-15, whilst Ty Chant (0-21), George Wyrill (0-20) and Will Park (0-18) all bowled well.

But Symene could not match their hosts with only Phil Hawkins (15) getting into double figures as Frank Webber (4-23) and Broadwell-Miller who claimed 3-1 from the last over of the game, saw Symene dismissed for 70 all out.

One of the veterans Nick Skyrme said: "The four lads all played extremely well, and all of us were impressed by their attitude and fielding and indeed their bowling.

"We need younger blood in the side and I am convinced that we will win a game this season.

"If we had one more of our top bowlers available they would have run through Shillingstone and won the match."

BROADWINDSOR 133 LOST TO BUTLEIGH 154 BY 21 RUNS

DEFENDING champions Broadwindsor are still looking for their first win of the season following defeat at the hands of the early leaders Butleigh, in a low scoring game.

The visitors were invited to bat first and struggled against the bowling of Adam Herring (4-18) and Ross Baker (1-30), with only A Drew (39) getting on top of the attack.

Broadwindsor lost three early wickets in reply and never really recovered.

Richie Runyard (21) and Dean Hyett (22) steadied the ship and captain Adie Phillips weighed in with an unbeaten 38, but couldn't stop Butleigh from winning with two balls to spare.

Gig racing

Mixed results for Bridport at World Champs

BRIDPORT Gig Rowing Club had mixed results when they competed at the World Pilot Gig

Rowing Championships in the Isles of Scilly over the May Bank Holiday weekend.

Despite some very challenging conditions on the Friday night the veteran's race went ahead, with the Bridport crews achieving some encouraging results.

The Ladies Vets A finished 12th rowing in Dagger, with the Ladies Vets B in Blaez achieving 41st out of 61 competing, whilst the Men's Vets A and B finished 24th and 48th respectively out of 48 racing.

The weather improved slightly on Saturday, but the wind and swell remained strong.

The first race of the main competition is a 1.8 mile race from St Agnes to St Mary's, which the vets also row, and determines the position of the crews for the next race.

There follows a shorter heat of which there are two more on the Sunday; the last being the final.

However the club received huge disappointment when, after the first race, the Men's A crew were disqualified for going over the start line.

There was greater upset when the ladies A crew were mistakenly disqualified in the process; resulting in them missing their first heat.

Despite this, the squads pulled together, and the remaining crews rowed their hardest and used the disappointment as an incentive to do even better.

As a result the Men's B crew finished in a very credible 86th place out of 137, while the Ladies A were reinstated and finished 53rd place, and B crew 103rd out of 141 boats.

For several rowers, this was their first championships, and for some their first ever competitive race.

The squad would all like to thank the captains; Kevin Batchelor and Rachel Hamblett for their hard work in organising the crews and coordinating the training sessions.

The season has only just begun and the club will spend the summer attending regattas all around the South West, with Bridport's own regattabeing held on Sunday, June 21st.

Lyme Regis golf

Two aces at the 3rd!

by Richard Jackman

THE midweek stableford saw new faces on the podium as Graig McGowan scored a brilliant 42 points to get his handicap down to 7.

Bernie Styles with 38 points, just pipped Colin Baker to 3rd place on countback.

The seniors' May stableford Division One was won by Roger Stokes' outstanding 42 points from Keith Gibson 38 and Stuart Briggs 33.

Division 2 was much closer as Dave Dallas just beat Barry Coleman on countback with 38 points and Michael List came 3rd with 35.

Highlight of the day though was Keith Gibson's hole-in-one on the 3rd, the first time 5 handicapper Keith has achieved this feat.

Lyme Regis had its club day on Saturday as a complete mixture of teams set out for a Texas scramble competition.

Although the day was more important than the result it perhaps typified the event that the age difference in the winning team was over 60 years.

Lady member Ronny Turner was teamed with young Zak Mudford, Steve Mudford and the vintage Mike Hankey. Congratulations to Steve Mudford who equalled Keith's feat of the previous day by also scoring a hole-in-one on the 3rd hole. The golf was followed by a tasty barbecue and the more hardy ones danced the night away to 'Mother's Ruin'.

A SORRY batting display saw previously unbeaten Uplyme & Lyme Regis 1st XI come crashing back down to earth as they were beaten by 78 runs at the King George V playing field by Alphington on Saturday.

Things started well with Steve Batey winning the toss and electing to field first.

Wes Holmes made the initial breakthrough when he had opening bat Dave Hayson playing on with the score on six.

What proved to be a match-winning second-wicket stand of 48 was eventually broken when Paddy Barraclough trapped Andy Shepherd in front.

This triggered a collapse that saw the visitors lose five wickets for eight runs and lurch to 68 for 6.

A gitty unbeaten 50 from Will Pring enable Alphington to close on 158 for 8 with Barraclough the pick of the home attack returning figures of 8-2-23-4.

The Uplyme response started well with Jedd Whittington and Alfie Bellworthy putting on 23 for the first wicket.

But the latter was then bowled for 8 and top scorer Whittington (21) followed in similar fashion and it was 36 for 2.

Wickets then began to tumble and the hosts limped to 53 for 7 before eventually being rolled over for 80 having batted for just 23 overs and two balls.

Uplyme & Lyme Regis 4pts lost to Alphington 18pts by 78 runs.

There are two changes for Saturday's visit to Ottery St Mary with Liam Thomas and Mark Brimicombe coming in for Tyler Wellman and Ollie Lee respectively.

Over at Countess Wear 10-man Uplyme & Lyme Regis 2nds also tasted defeat.

Captain Ian Thomas opted to bat first but his charges struggled losing their last seven wickets for just six runs with only opener Eddie Clarke (22) reaching double figures in a paltry total of 52.

The hosts reached 25 for 0 before occasional bowler Dave Norman (4 for 16) claimed four wickets.

At 32 for 4 there was a glimpse of an unlikley victory but John Heaver lived up to his name with three boundaries and Countess Wear reached their target in 65 deliveries.

Uplyme & Lyme Regis2nds 2pts lost to Countess Wear 19pts by 6 wickets.
